State Approves Poughkeepsie Plan To Finance Homes

Application Calls for Low Rent Unit to House 188 Families in City

New York, July 21.—State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Suchman announced today his approval of an application for financing by the state of the first low rent housing and slum clearance program in the City of Poughkeepsie.

The application by the Poughkeepsie Housing Authority, of which Dr. Philip Allen Swartz is chairman, calls for the construction of a $2,000,000 state-financed low rent project which will provide homes for 188 low-income families, and the clearance of a substandard area in the downtown section of town.

"Although this project will make a considerable dent in the housing needs of the city, many more dwelling units of similar nature will have to be constructed before the need for housing will be met," Commissioner Suchman said.

He added that the new housing and slum clearance would be the foundation of an urban redevelopment program that will aid private business in the city.

In addition to the state loan that the Poughkeepsie Housing Authority will receive, the state will pay a cash subsidy up to approximately $70,000 a year to keep the rents low and within the means of low income families. Tentative estimate for rents in the new housing is $8.48 per room per month.

Tammany Leader Rejects Costello

Says Gambler Will Have No Place in Regime Under Setup

New York, July 22 (AP)—Tammany Hall's new leader says there is a "keep out" sign for gambler Frank Costello.

Asked by newsmen yesterday if Costello will have any influence in Tammany under the new regime, leader Carmine G. De Sapio declared "definitely not."

Foes of Tammany have charged that the prominent gambler wielded power in the Manhattan Democratic organization and in the city administration.

Costello's answer to that was that he had so much political power he couldn't even get a traffic ticket fixed.

Answering questions at a news conference yesterday on his first full day as Tammany chief, De Sapio said he has met Costello a few times—in restaurants or on the street.

De Sapio said he never discussed politics with the gambler because "there was no reason to."

De Sapio made a bid for peace with Mayor William O'Dwyer and anti-Tammany Democrats in New York county (Manhattan).

He said he would ask Hugo E. Rogers, whom he replaced Wednesday as Tammany leader, to withdraw as a candidate for re-election as Manhattan borough president.

De Sapio said he expected substitution of a candidate satisfactory to the mayor and the Democratic voters of the borough.

Informed of this announcement, Rogers said: "I have not with-

Trumanites Try Salvage On Farm Bill

Thomas Hopes to Win Some Points; Senators Foresee Defeat for Brannan Act

Political Aspects
Next Year's Campaign May Find Issue One of Importance

Washington, July 22 (AP)—A crushing House defeat of its controversial farm plan set the administration to work today on salvage operations in the Senate.

With a powerful combination of Democrats and Republicans in control, the House late yesterday voted 239 to 170 to kill a proposed "trial run" of the farm subsidy plan of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan on eggs, potatoes and wool. The coalition was led by Rep. Gore (D-Tenn.), normally an administration follower. It triumphed despite a plea from Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas), to give the Brannan plan a try.

Instead, the House voted 383 to 25 to continue for another year the rigid wartime farm price supports at 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a computed price intended to give farmers a purchasing power in fair relationship to the cost of things they must buy.

Today Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, indicated he hoped to turn the tide in the Senate, or at least gain a compromise.

Thomas said he will call his committee together to "see what we want to do with the House bill."

But while Thomas reflected some optimism for the Brannan subsidy plan, some other farm-minded Senators foresaw defeat for it in the Senate too.

They said that a possible Senate-House deadlock may toss the whole issue into next year's political campaign while a flexible farm-price support program, enacted last year, becomes law January.

Repeal of this law, even before it goes into effect, was another action voted by the House yesterday, this one without a record ballot. It would allow levels of government price supports to decline if surpluses developed, but would not require it.

Brannan's proposal was to allow market prices of milk, meats and other perishable foods to drop freely without support of government loans and purchases, and then keep farmers' incomes at fair levels by direct subsidies from the treasury plus planting and marketing controls.

The coalition insisted the Brannan plan was opposed by most farmers, supported chiefly by labor and was "political bait."

Daily to Speak At Library Rites

State Librarian Will Give Principal Address at Port Ewen

A noted state official and a prominent public speaker will give the principal address at the 10th anniversary exercises of the Port Ewen Library Saturday afternoon.

The office of Senator Arthur H. Wickes, this city, announced this afternoon that Senator Wickes had procured Dr. Robert H. Delly, principal librarian of the New York State Library, Albany, to speak at the exercises at 3 p. m.

Dr. Delly is one of the foremost authorities on the advantages of public free libraries in small communities.

The public is invited.

County Leaders Favor Dulles As Fall Candidate

Albany, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—John Foster Dulles, long on brains but supposedly short on political appeal, is favored as the Republican candidate for U. S. senator by a representative cross-section of C. O. P. county leaders in New York state.

Governor Dewey, who appointed Dulles July 7 as interim senator to succeed the resigned New Deal Democrat, Robert F. Wagner, is a close second choice of the same group.

This was disclosed today in the tabulation of an Associated Press mail ballot poll of the county chairmen.

Ironically, neither Dulles nor Dewey wants the nomination, and the county statements were well aware of that when they wrote their first, second and third choices.

Soviets Tried To Plant Spies In U.S. in 1929

Washington, July 22 (AP)—Testimony of a former Red that the Soviet secret police began trying 20 years ago to sneak agents into State Department jobs was made public today by House investigators.

Paul Crouch, who told of 17 active years in the Communist party, gave the testimony to the House Un-American Activities Committee in May. The committee released part of it today but withheld some "for the time being in the interest of national security."

Now a mechanical department employee of the Miami Daily News, Crouch identified dozens of former associates as Communists—people all over the country in schools, unions, business and all sorts of occupations.

He told of going to Moscow to consult "top officials" of the Red army general staff and of getting orders for infiltrating Communists into the American army.

Later, he said, he was active in trying to infiltrate the radiation laboratory and "all scientific research at the University of California."

Some of his testimony had leaked out before and some covered things Crouch had included in a series of published articles.

He said he was a Communist from 1925 to 1942 and got out when he came to realize that he and other Reds were "victims of a gigantic fraud."

It was in 1929, Crouch said, that he was let in on desires of the Russian secret police to plant people in the State Department and other government agencies.

He said he was told by a Nicholas Dozenberg that "the heads of the O.G.P.U. (secret police) in the United States" were planning to use Crouch said Dozenberg at one time was national organizational secretary of the Communist Party but dropped out of official party work to take on a confidential assignment for the O.G.P.U.

"With the greatest precautions, and in roundabout ways," Crouch related, "I was escorted by Dozenberg to a fashionable west-side apartment near Central Park, in New York, where I was introduced to a tall Russian who spoke broken English."

That Mr. Dozenberg said, was the head of the O.G.P.U. in this country.

"The Russian was interested primarily in the question of any Y.C.L. (Young Communist League) members in the State Department or other government officials from whom, the possibilities of placing members in such jobs, urging that all with any possibility should apply for government jobs in Washington, and he also indicated the greatest interest in obtaining blank American passport books."

"I told him we were not in position to supply them. He asked that if we were at any time, to contact him through Dozenberg."

Crouch told the committee about a person he said joined the party after holding "very high positions in the government." The testimony went on:

"Before entering the Communist Party he was assistant to (name deleted) as (name deleted) administrator and held various other positions of trust. He has many friends among government officials from whom, if he is still in the party, he might be able to obtain information of importance to national defense."

He said he doesn't know whether this person still is a Red.

Asked to identify some of the people involved in infiltration attempts at the University of California, where part of the atom bomb project was handled, Crouch mentioned Kenneth May. He said May is the son of a university dean and was a member of the Communist Party.

Others on the program will include Senator Arthur H. Wickes, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Assemblyman John F. Wadlin, Robert E. Teetsel, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and Supreme Court Judge Roscoe V. Elsworth. The complete program is now in the hands of the printer.

Permits must be obtained for movement of machinery wider than eight feet. Foster suggested that 'permits of a floating type be issued to provide wide discretion to holders to operate in certain territories.'"

Dewey Will Speak
Hamilton, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—Sixty experts gather at Colgate University today for a week-long huddle to try to find out where foreign policy is taking the United States. They will spend some time, too, in discussing ways and means of stimulating "grass roots" community interest in America's relations with the rest of the world.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, State Department officials and veteran diplomats will be among those who will speak on state highways. General Secretary E. S. Foster said yesterday he had written Governor Dewey that "the red tape and inconvenience" involved in obtaining permits for machinery exceeding the legal limit "is more than farmers will tolerate. ## Dewey Committee to Report On 'Recession' in Near Future

Wheat Cut Asked
Federal Bid Made

Washington, July 22 (AP)—Major wheat states have been asked to cut 1950 acreages 10.8 to 35.3 per cent as part of the government's program aimed at keeping down grain surpluses.

The reductions were requested yesterday by the Agriculture Department in dispatching out 1950 state wheat planting allotments.

Colorado was given the sharpest percentage cut—35.3 per cent. North Dakota got the smallest of the major producing states—10.8 per cent.

Spaulding Directs Schools Oust All Subversive Worker

Albany, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—The state education commissioner today directed local school authorities to "proceed immediately" with "positive action" to rid the public school system of subversive employees.

In a memorandum mailed to all school officials in the state, Commissioner Francis T. Spaulding interpreted new regulations directed principally against employment of Communists as public school teachers.

The regulations were adopted July 15 by the State Board of Regents under provisions of the 1949 Feinberg Law. The measure was designed to tighten existing bans against employment of persons in the school system who advocate the forcible overthrow of the U. S. Government.

Sponsors said the measure was directed against Communists. Spaulding said that "treasonable or subversive acts or statements outside the school are as much a basis for dismissal as are similar activities in school or in the presence of school children."

He warned school authorities, however, that they "must be vigilant to guard" teachers against "un-

Dockers Vote to Resume Work; 13,000 Men Out

London, July 22 (AP)—Striking dockers who have crippled the Port of London for 25 days voted today to return to their jobs Monday.

The vote came at a huge mass meeting in Victoria Park, where the committee leading the walk-out recommended that the men call it off.

A member of the strike committee told the men of the decision.

An average of 13,000 dock workers have been on strike since the stoppage began June 27 in sympathy with the striking Canadian Seamen's Union. By the time the strikers get back to work Monday they will have lost about $400,000 ($1,600,000) in wages. As the decision to return to work was made, some 15,000 odd dockers were idle.

The stoppage tied up vital British export cargoes, hampering Britain's drive to overcome her severe dollar crisis. Troops, concentrating on unloading food ships, have prevented any severe shortages in British food supplies.

In the House of Commons Labor Minister George Isaacs was asked if the government now would call off the state of emergency the government had proclaimed because of the strike. He replied the Cabinet "truly must wait until Monday, until we see what has been the effect of today's decision" by the workers.

The strike began when the Canadian Seamen's Union (C.S.U.) blacklisted two Canadian ships, the Argonaut and the Beaverbrook, in London. The C.S.U. dispute with the Canadian shipowners has grown into a jurisdictional battle between the C.S.U. and its rival, the International Seafarers Union, which has named some ships on which the C.S.U. had called strikes.

President Will Send His Program

Administration Hopes for Authorization Bill, Appropriation From Congress

Treaty Approved

Senate Votes in Favor of Pact by Vote of 82 to 13

Washington, July 22 (AP)—The White House announced today that President Truman will send to Congress Monday a proposed program of foreign military aid to back up the Atlantic Pact, Vice President Barkley said it will be pressed for passage at this session.

Barkley, who attended a cabinet session at the White House, said the administration hopes to pass both an authorization bill and an appropriation to finance the arms program before it quits around Sept. 1.

He said he does not expect as much debate on the arms program as occurred in the Senate during consideration of the pact, which the Senate ratified yesterday by a vote of 82 to 13.

The President originally planned to send the arms message to both Houses today, but postponed this action until Monday to suit the convenience of Senate leaders, Charles C. Ross, presidential press secretary, told reporters.

Spaulding, who had expected the message today, with the hope that hearings on the authorization could start in a House committee Monday, Barkley said.

It is understood that the proposed authorization will be for $1,450,000 for foreign military aid, of which $1,130,000 would go to this country's associates in the North Atlantic Treaty.

Ross said the message will run from 2,500 to 3,000 words and that it is already prepared.

Original plans had called for the President to submit the program today. But an administration source reported that some delay had developed and the message would not be ready today.

The President's proposal was expected to provide a bar against giving the Europeans atomic bombs. It was understood that the administration bill would specify that nothing in it would supersede the Atomic Energy Act, which forbids release of atomic explosives.

The 20-year treaty won through the ratification late yesterday by a vote of 82 to 13 after administration leaders had given repeated assurances that Senators who voted for the pact would not be obligated to vote for the Arms bill. This means that now on urging passage of the bill the administration apparently will not be able to use any suggestion or obligation as an argument for favorable action.

On its face, the treaty is not a specific defense against any particular aggressor but its primary purpose is to provide security for the western European nations against any attack by Russia.

The 12 signers agree that they will regard any attack on one as an attack on all. For the first time in history, the United States is joining with European nations in a military alliance.

All the member nations are to join together in developing, as soon as possible, a grand strategy of defense for the west.

Efforts by Senators Taft (R-Ohio), Wherry (R-Neb.) and Watkins (R-Utah) to tack reservations to the treaty were badly defeated. The big majority of the Senate went along with Senators Connally (D-Texas) and Vandenberg (Mich.). The 82 to 13 ratification vote exceeded by 18 the 64 votes required for two-thirds approval.

Youth, 16, Gets 6 Months in Jail

William A. Bowle, 16, of 206 West 145th street, New York, employed in the kitchen at Camp Rondout, town of Rosendale, was sentenced, to six months in jail by Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky of the town of Rosendale when Bowle pleaded guilty Thursday to petit larceny.

Bowle was arrested by Sergeant A. A. Reilly and Trooper H. Rasmussen of the Lake Katine state police station on complaint of Charlotte Kolowitz of New York city, who charged her boyfriend had been entered on July 19 while she was absent and $52 taken.

The report of the theft was made to the troopers yesterday and Bowle was later picked up. He stated, according to the troopers, that he had spent some of the money and lost the balance.

BABSON on BUSINESS

YOUNG BUSINESSMEN
Babson Park, Mass., July 22—During the past month I have talked with a number of graduates from my three colleges—Babson Institute for Men in Massachusetts, Webster College for Women in Florida, and Utopia College in the center of the United States at Eureka, Kansas. I find all of these graduates optimistic and "cracy to go." They do not complain of the New Deal because they never knew anything about the Old Deal. They assume that a Democratic administration at Washington is a normal condition and that the Republican party has passed into history. Many of these men have seen war service in Europe, Asia and Africa and are thoroughly sold on the resources, advantages and opportunities of the United States.

Sons Versus Fathers
The young businessmen of today are in a very much different mood from their fathers who were brought up in a truly free-enterprise system but who now are discontented with government regulations, high taxation and labor domination. When I talk with the fathers of these young men I return home discouraged and pessimistic, but when I talk with the sons of these same fathers I am hopeful and optimistic.

Of course, neither fathers nor sons can eliminate the business cycle. Someday we shall have another business depression and much lower prices and considerable unemployment. On the other hand, I feel that if more fathers would turn their business over to their sons, the present prosperity would last longer and the next depression would not be so severe.

Forecasting the Future
A prominent investment banker recently asked me what I thought would happen to the railroad, telephone companies and other public utilities during the next thirty years? Knowing that he has three children who have recently graduated from college, I replied: "Don't ask me. I am over seventy years old. Get together your children and ask them what is to happen. They are the ones who will decide whether the government will take over the railroads and utilities. In case you think your children would merely reflect your own opinions, have them consult."

Local Death Record

Funeral services for Christian Jondal, captain of the barge who was drowned in the Rondout creek at Wilbur last Sunday, were held at the Ernest A. Kelly Funeral Home Thursday at 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. Frank L. Golnick, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, conducting burial was in the River View Cemetery, Port Ewen, where the Rev. Mr. Golnick conducted the committal service.

Russell Q. Krom died this morning at his home in Marlborough. The funeral will be held from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, Monday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, Stone Ridge. He is survived by three children, Regina A. Krom, Evelyn F. Krom and John C. Krom, and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Carson, Gratton, Mass., and Mrs. William Whitaker, Kingston.

Andrew Burger, aged resident of Kingston, died Tuesday at the Jennings nursing home in Highland. He was over 85 years old and had been at the nursing home for eight months. He was a member of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Kingston. He is survived by a son, Fred Burger of Kingston. The funeral was held today at 10:30 a. m. from the Ernest A. Kelly Funeral Home with the Rev. Frank A. Golnick conducting the service. Burial was in Monticello Cemetery where the Rev. Mr. Golnick recited the committal service.

Schmidt Wanted On Another Charge
Michael Schmidt, who is being held in the county jail for action of the grand jury, on a charge of grand larceny growing out of the alleged taking of money at the Four Corners Tavern at Cottekill early this month, is also wanted in Essex county on a charge of "larceny and receiving."

Schmidt was arrested and brought back to Ulster county on July 8 to face the local grand larceny charge. At that time the local officials took the routine fingerprints which were sent to the F.B.I. headquarters for filing. As a result it was found there was a warrant dated 1947 in Newark, N. J., which charges larceny in Essex county. The warrant will be forwarded and executed when the Ulster county charge is disposed of.

No Change Likely
Albany, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—The State Public Works Department said today it was "very questionable" whether it would liberalize restrictions against moving large farm machinery on state highways. The State Farm Bureau Federation in Ithaca protested the restrictions, contending the law was "retarding the efficiency of farm production."

General Is Director
Wilmingon, Del., July 22 (AP)—Pan American Airways Corp. has added Gen. George C. Marshall to its board of directors. The former secretary of state and army chief of staff was elected yesterday along with David S. Ingals, Cleveland.

Mohican Lemons
The price of lemons at the Mohican Market, John street, is one dozen for 35 cents instead of the price quoted in Thursday's advertisement.

About the Folks
Mrs. Rudolph Schoepf of 7 Lindsey avenue is recuperating at her home. She became ill while on vacation in Selden, L. I., and returned to her home Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Schoepf left for the vacation trip last Saturday.

acquaintances whose families hold no investments today. I am sure that the opinion of an honest cross section of young people would be far more valuable than the opinion of mature bankers, engineers or even political leaders."

When discussing with students the business outlook they insist that conditions are very different today than in 1929. They show how in 1929 interest rates were very high and money was scarce, while today interest rates are abnormally low and bank loans may easily be secured. They explain how the farmers in 1929 were burdened with debt and today are almost free from debt and that, in a general way, this applies also to other industries. They claim that everyone was speculating in 1929 on very thin margins while today there is only a little speculation with margins averaging over 70 per cent.

Babson Institute Roundtables
These students are proud of the fact that the government has become such a large purchaser of certain goods, crops and building materials and hence can largely stabilize these industries. They recognize that unemployment will increase; but that unemployment insurance, pensions, etc., should still give these unemployed people money with which to pay their rent and buy their food. They claim will make retail trade less dependent for fluctuations in industrial production.

These students show that not only is the farmer now largely out of debt, but that he can indefinitely depend upon a fair system of price supports, the same as the manufacturer depends upon a reasonable tariff and the same as the wageworker depends upon reasonable immigration restrictions. They point to the fact that there was no bank deposit insurance in 1929, while today every bank account up to $5000 is insured and this means insurance protection for 95 per cent of all individual depositors. Finally they believe that the unsatisfied demand for homes and consumer durable goods can—if necessary—be paid for by the large savings deposits which people can draw upon for such useful products. Yes, I have great faith in the young businessmen of character—who will work hard and keep out of debt.

Late Bulletin

New York, July 22 (AP)—State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stohman today announced his approval of an application for state financing of the first low rent housing and slum clearance program in the city of Poughkeepsie.

The application, by the Poughkeepsie Housing Authority, calls for the construction of a $2,000,000 state-financed low rent project. The project would provide homes for 188 low-income families, and the clearance of a substandard area in the downtown area.

In addition to the state loan to the authority, the state also will pay a cash subsidy up to about $70,000 yearly to keep rents within the means of low income families, Stohman said.

Tentative estimate for rents is $8.45 per room per month. This includes utilities.

Two at Hospital Reported 'Good'
The condition of Frank Terwilliger, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terwilliger of Sleightsburg, who were fatally injured in an auto accident Thursday, was reported as "good," at the Benedictine Hospital.

The boy's father was killed instantly when the car in which they were riding struck a tree at Ulster Park at 2:15 a. m. Thursday morning, and Mrs. Terwilliger died at the hospital early yesterday afternoon.

A report of the accident yesterday indicated that the boy was driving the car at the time. Authorities said he suffered chest injuries and possible internal injuries.

Others injured were Darleen Nathan, 15, of Binghamton, who suffered a fracture of the right leg, and Floyd Terwilliger, 13, who suffered a head injury. The hospital reported condition of the girl as "good" and said Floyd Terwilliger was discharged.

309 Polio Cases
Albany, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—A total of 309 polio cases have been reported in New York state so far this year. New York city cases now total 174, with 14 new ones reported in the last 24 hours. There were 135 upstate. The situation was described by Dr. Robert F. Korns, director of the State Health Department's Bureau of Communicable Disease Control, as "about average upstate" but higher than usual in New York city.

Military Construction
Washington, July 22 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee today approved a $613,815,882 bill for military construction to improve domestic and foreign bases. The action was taken by a unanimous vote. The authorization bill does not provide the actual money.

Loaded
Versa Ralston stars a young fortune in jewels. The ear-rings, necklace and bracelets, from a Hollywood antique collection, are valued at $250,000. They are supposed to have been given to the Empress Josephine by Napoleon. The necklace alone contains 20 square-cut diamonds ranging in size from two to five carats each.

Radio Officers Strike
New York, July 22 (AP)—A strike of flight radio officers disrupted operations of American Overseas Airlines at LaGuardia Field again today. The strike, called yesterday, caused cancellation of all Europe-bound flights. Two U. S. bound flights from London failed to take off. The airline said at least three east-bound flights would be grounded today. Ross D. Roan, of the National Mediation Board, said the union thus far had refused to agree to return to work and then continue negotiations.

Wolven Jailed
Harry Asa Wolven, 22, of Woodstock was arrested near the swimming pool in Woodstock yesterday by Sergeant Reilly and Troopers Rasmussen and Dunn on complaint of a citizen of Woodstock who charged that Wolven was committing acts of indecency in the presence of people swimming. Wolven was arraigned before Justice George Bracken on a charge of indecent exposure and on his plea of guilty was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

Blame Vatican
London, July 22 (AP)—The Moscow radio charged today that Roman Catholic excommunication of Communists was a Vatican reaction to the Anglo-American reactionaries are waging against the camp of peace and democracy. It said the ban was intended "to split the united front of people fighting for peace against the Anglo-American warmongers," and added that it was bound to fail.

To Look for Ark
Moscow, July 22 (AP)—A Tass dispatch from Ankara, Turkey, says the Turkish Army general staff has given permission to an American group to explore strategic Mount Ararat for the remains of Noah's ark. The story, given in the Communist party organ Pravda, called the expedition "an intelligence service activity under the guise of a search for Noah's ark." It said the group is staying in Ankara waiting for a ship to arrive from the United States with their equipment.

Karachi Jews Migrate
Karachi (AP)—A Jewish party of about 12 men, women and children is migrating from Pakistan to Israel in July. There are about 400 Jews in Karachi and this is the first contingent to migrate. The migrating party includes business people who have been in this part of the world for years. They say they hope for "better prospects" in Israel.

Financial and Commercial
New York, July 22 (AP)—Traders stepped cautiously in today's stock market and prices barely stirred. Most changes were in small fractions, with gains and losses well divided. Numerous shares either remained at Thursday's closing levels or swung idly from the plus to minus column.

Trading got off to a slow start and stayed that way. Less business was transacted than in any other day this week.

Many market operators were evidently looking for clues to the near-term trend in view of yesterday's setback, the first of the week and the longest in around three weeks. The Thursday decline broke—or interrupted—an advance that has been under way since mid-June and which has carried the general price level to an eight-week high.

Barnsdall Oil, a comparatively inactive issue which often takes wide swings, was the only stock that started in the last few minutes of business yesterday. At one time the price was up around two points.

Others ahead included Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Caterpillar Tractor, Western Union, Phelps Dodge, General Electric, Johns-Manville, Philip Morris, Union Pacific, United Air Lines, Western Airlines and Eastern Air Lines.

Marked down were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Packard, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Schenley, American Telephone, Columbia Gas, Commonwealth & Southern, Kennecott Copper, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Owens-Illinois, American Tobacco, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (N. J.), and Gulf Oil.

Heans voted against ratification. The Democrats were Senators Edwin C. Johnson (Colo.) and Taylor (Idaho).

The Republicans were Senators Cordon (Or.), Donnell (Mo.), Flannery (Va.), Jenner (Ind.), Kern (Mo.), Langer (N. D.), Malone (Nev.), Taft (Ohio), Watkins (Utah), Wheeler (Neb.) and Young (Ind.).

Most of the argument was whether the United States should state by reservation that in joining the treaty this nation was under no obligation to furnish arms, including atomic weapons, to other members. This was the gist of the Taft-Wheeler-Watkins demand, which was rejected 74 to 21.

Spaulding Directs
Just accusations and condemnation. The Regents' regulations ordered local school boards to appoint "one or more of the officials in their employ" to make an annual report on each public school employee.

The report must state either that there is no evidence that a teacher is subversive or that such evidence has been found.

Spaulding said that "the statute and the Regents' rules make it clear that it is a primary duty of the school authorities in each school district to take positive action to eliminate from the school system any teacher in whose case there is evidence that he is guilty of subversive activity."

He added that "school authorities are under obligation to proceed immediately and conclusively in every such case."

The Regents are scheduled to adopt a list next fall of what they consider subversive organizations.

Spaulding said that "pending its publication school authorities are responsible for proceeding with all diligence in the cases of teachers whose acts other than membership in specified organizations fall within the purview of the statutes."

Mystery Blonde Sought in Case

Los Angeles, July 22 (AP)—Sheriff's deputies today sought a mystery blonde who may have put the finger on Mickey Cohen in the attempted assassination of the ill-fated gambling czar.

The first reported break in the ruthless shooting came last night when Lawrence E. Vaale, a resident in the shooting area, told deputies he saw the blonde and three men flee from just below his bedroom window, moments after the shots Wednesday morning.

Det. Sgt. R. T. Hopkinson said Vaale reported he heard the shots and the sound of men running. He looked out his bedroom window and saw a 1949 sedan parked with motor running. One man was at the wheel, one in back and a third standing on the sidewalk.

Then the blonde woman, wearing a dark suit, came running and said: "Come on, Chuckie, let's get out of here."

The two jumped into the car and it sped off. Vaale said he was able to detect the first two numbers of the license. He said he had seen the man named "Chuckie" and the car in the neighborhood a week earlier.

Other sheriff's investigators were busy checking the long distance phone calls of the wounded mobster, who suffered a comparatively slight shoulder injury.

Three others — Harry Cooper, bodyguard assigned to Cohen by the state attorney general; Edward (Neddie) Herbert, Cohen henchman; and bit actress Dee David — were wounded critically, but are reported improving.

The party was shot as they emerged from Sherry's Restaurant on Plush Sunset strip. Eight shotgun shots were fired by two gunmen from across the street.

Heroic Engineer Is Burned Badly

Montebello, Calif., July 22 (AP)—A heroic engineer who brought his streamliner train through a seething wall of flames is near death today.

The driver of the gasoline truck hit by the train died last night. He was Harry G. Houston, of Bell, Calif.

The engineer, H. E. Byers, 55, Los Vegas, Nev., was credited by officers with saving 150 passengers by staying at the controls and rolling the Union Pacific's "City of Los Angeles" through the flames, which roared several hundred feet high as the 7,300-gallon truck exploded.

Byers was burned critically on his arms and upper body. A second engineer, Edward M. Dennis, 45, Las Vegas, was burned less seriously. Before he died, the truck driver told sheriff's deputies that the truck's drive shaft apparently broke as it started to cross the tracks.

7 Houses Damaged

North Bergen, N. J., July 22 (AP)—The damaged roofs of seven houses around the 780-foot WOR television tower are in need of repairs today after a small blaze broke out at the 555-foot level of the tower.

It took two firemen 15 minutes to clamber up more than 1,000 steps to the site of the fire yesterday. Other firemen took care of the minor roof blazes ignited by pieces of burning tarpaulin falling from the tower. The tower itself was not damaged. Firemen said the blaze began in a tarpaulin used to protect equipment on the gigantic tower, located at 72nd street and Palisades avenue.

Cardinal Criticizes Mrs. FDR's Stand

New York, July 22 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman today criticized Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt for her support of the Barden bill to furnish Federal Aid to public schools.

In a letter to the former first lady, the Catholic prelate said "Your record of anti-Catholicism stands for all to see—a record which you yourself wrote on the pages of history which cannot be recalled—documents of discrimination unworthy of an American mother."

The cardinal's attack was based on articles written by Mrs. Roosevelt in her column, "My Day."

Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary said at Hyde Park that the letter had not yet been received, and that there would be no comment until after its arrival, if then, Cardinal Spellman made the letter public.

Spellman wrote that, after Mrs. Roosevelt's first column on the Barden bill June 23, he had intended ignoring it.

But, as the days passed, and in two subsequent columns you continued your anti-Catholic campaign, I became convinced that it was in the interest of all Americans and the cause of justice itself that your misstatements should be challenged in every quarter of our country where they have already spun and spread their web of prejudice," his letter said.

"I have received hundreds of messages from persons of all faiths demanding that I answer you. I am, therefore, not free to ignore you."

Names New Officers

At a special reorganizational meeting of the Board of Education of the Ontario Central School, held Tuesday evening, July 19, the following elections and appointments were made for the school years 1949-50:

Fred D. Cure, Pine Hill, was elected president of the board of education.

Justus North, Shokan, was appointed clerk of the board of education.

Mrs. Janie Silkworth, Olive Bridge, was appointed treasurer of the school district.

William Q. Davis, Olive Bridge, was appointed school tax collector.

The firm of Connelly & Connelly, 277 Fair street, Kingston, was officially designated as attorney for the board of education.

Blind Vendor Killed By Subway Train

New York, July 22 (AP)—Above the roar of an approaching subway train, passengers waiting on the platform heard the blind man cry:

"Help me, please, some one please help me."

Louis Kerman, sightless newspaper vendor, stood on the tracks of the subway line in a downtown Manhattan station. Apparently, he had made a misstep yesterday and fallen from the platform.

His dark glasses and cane, dropped in his fall, were several feet from him.

He reached out his arms, groping, as he cried for help. But there was no time to help.

"What could I do?" subway motorman Frank Marmier said later. "I locked the brakes; it was too late."

A police lieutenant telephoned the dead man's wife.

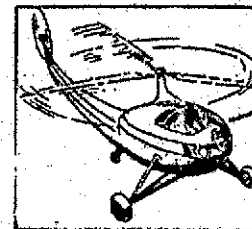

"How he didn't know what happened," Mrs. Kerman said.

Flagstad Banned

San Francisco, July 22 (AP)—Kirsten Flagstad shall not sing this fall—not in San Francisco's War Memorial Opera House.

Trustees of the Memorial last night rejected the ban upon her four scheduled appearances here. The controversy arose from the fact Miss Flagstad was married to an accused Nazi collaborator, and had returned to her husband in Norway while Nazis occupied that nation in wartime. Local American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars units objected to her appearances here.

By BILLY ROSE.

Over a final cup of coffee the other before dawn; the headwaiter at my nightclub got to talking about the tipping habits of present-day customers compared to the splurgers and show-offs of Jimmy Walker's day.

"I doubt whether there's been a hundred-dollar tip in this town since Prohibition," I said.

"There've been a few," said the headwaiter. "Matter of fact, I heard about a guy who left a thousand-dollar tip not long ago."

"No," said the headwaiter, "he was a retired businessman, Mitkins by name, and he manufactured Roman candles until the safety laws caught up with him."

"Millionaire?"

"You'd never guess it from the way he tipped. He used to dine regularly at a restaurant on East Eighth street, and on Mondays he'd leave a nickel, on Tuesdays a dime, and so on until Friday when he'd shoot the works and leave a whole quarter for the waitress."

"How come the girls didn't poison him?"

"There was talk of it," said the headwaiter. "Anyway, as I got the story, Mitkins came in one Monday and plopped himself down at a table which was being serviced by a girl named Emily, a wisenheimer who'd been around the hash houses for a long time."

Knowing of his tipping habits, Emily decided to wish him off on somebody else, and the logical candidate was a waitress named Judy who hadn't been in New York very long.

"Tell ya what I'll do, kid," Emily told her. "You're new here and I want ya to get off to a good start. I'll trade ya my station up front for that no-man's-land of yours near the kitchen."

Judy thanked her, and all that week took care of Mitkins—and the funny part of it was she didn't seem to mind his miserly tips.

"That Friday night, when Mitkins handed her the big quarter, Judy smiled at him as if he were Gregory Peck, and the next day—Saturday—the old coot came back to her table for meal number six. And when he left, there was a thousand-dollar bill under his water glass."

"It's exactly like I thought," Judy informed the other waitresses. "When someone likes Mr. Mitkins for himself, and gives him real service, he doesn't care how much he gives away."

"When the Roman candle king showed up the following Monday, Emily steered him to her table, and for the next five days kept inquiring if there were any dainties she could smuggle out of the kitchen for him. And on Friday when he handed her the quarter, she did everything but give him her phone number. As a result, Mitkins came back the second Saturday in a row and again left a bill under his water glass—only this time it was a buck."

Judy, of course, had an explanation for that one, too. "Mr. Mitkins is very observant and he knew all along that Emily was only being nice because she was after his money."

"But this theory was knocked into a hamburger skillet a few nights later when Mr. Mitkins walked in and demanded to see the manager."

"When I checked my wallet today," he said, "I found a shortage of $999. It appears that, on account of my near-sightedness, I left a thousand-dollar bill as a tip, thinking it was a single."

Judy was summoned and, when the situation was explained to her, she began to cry. "I can't give back the money because I spent it for dresses and a silver fox jacket," she said. "Besides, how was I to know it wasn't a tip?"

"A tip!" said Mr. Mitkins. "Who goes around leaving thousand-dollar tips?"

"Diamond Jim Brady once left a $26,000 tip," said the manager. "Either I got my $999," said Mitkins, "or I send for the police."

"Looking me up won't get you the money," said Judy, "and anyhow—And then she explained her theory about the tip to Mr. Mitkins. How she had sized him up as a man who tipped sparingly only because he had no use for people who were after his money, and how she had known all the time that, down underneath, he was a warm-hearted gentleman who would tip liberally if he thought a girl really liked him for himself."

"When she had finished, Mitkins said, 'Young lady, you've been seeing too many movies, but his voice softened as he told the manager. 'Never mind, I'll straighten things out with the girl.'"

"All this," said the headwaiter, "happened two years ago, and ever since, six nights a week, Mitkins eats at one of Judy's tables and leaves her a dollar tip, but instead of a greenback, it's a receipt. And at that rate, in October 1950, the $999 will all be paid back."

"A fittin' finish for the story," I said. "Would be for the old coot to die and, as a final tip, leave her every buck he had in the world."

"You'll probably write it that way," said my headwaiter, "but the waitresses on East Eighth street will bet you anything you want that in November, 1950, Mr. Mitkins will go back to his custom of tipping a nickel on Monday, a dime on Tuesday, and so forth."

against graft, racketeering, corruption of all forms in all forms of business, including unions and in government. That is on the record."

By Mr. P—"A very high-minded platform."

Mr. Irving said there were some 30 members of Congress in some way connected with unions. The public would not have elected them had they not been men of high character.

By Mr. P—"That does not follow. They elected Curley in Boston on his record."

A little later Mr. Irving began to make a nest for himself, knowing what was up in Kansas City. He said he had been elected "democratically" five times, but that "I believe you can find members in that particular union who are dissatisfied. Some of them have ambitions. Some would like to be in control of the treasury. Some claim discrimination and so forth."

Now what do the plaintiff rank-and-file allege in Kansas City?

They said Irving used union funds to elect himself to a $17,500 job in Congress. His salary and pickings from the local are estimated at $13,000.

Just a humble hand-washing, misrepresentation and mismanagement stood $30,500 servant of the sweaty ingrate down a hole.

There were 85 petitioners and the writ ran to 14 pages listing the charges and grievances of those "dissatisfied" men with "ambitions."

Irving had a union card for his personal use. He and his co-defendants paid convention expenses to men who didn't go. They paid money to union "stow-aways" for work in Irving's congressional campaign. Checks were paid to "cash" with no record of the purpose. They paid themselves "over time" which they hadn't earned.

The subcommittee needn't bother me any further for the names of individuals squawking against persecution and racketeering in unions.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE*Declarer Wins Bid In Wrong Contract

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

It is true that bridge is a scientific pastime, but it is not a game of perfection. Businessmen say the correct procedure in business is to buy an article and try to sell it at a profit. If it does not sell, take your loss quickly. Get as much of your money back as you can, so you can reinvest in a profitable article.

I W. Simon, a resident buyer in New York, brought this point home in today's hand which was played at the New York Bridge Whist Club. Six spades can be made easily because the queen of spades drops doubleton.

When South bid four hearts, which he used as a mild slam try, he had no idea that his partner would pass. Too often when the dummy goes down and a player finds that his partner has bid the hand badly, he becomes so angry that he throws all of his profits away. But not today's declarer.

He won the opening lead of the king of clubs in dummy, played a small heart and finessed the ten, West winning with the jack. Hoping to shorten dummy's trumps, West led the queen of clubs. However, declarer discarded a spade from dummy and ruffed in his own hand with the deuce of hearts. A small diamond was played to dummy's queen, East won with the ace and returned the six of diamonds which declarer won with the jack.

The ace of hearts was cashed and the third round of diamonds taken. A small spade was led and won with the ace. The king of spades was cashed, and now all that declarer had to do was to continue leading spades. There was nothing West could do except make his king of hearts.

North and South were in the wrong contract, nevertheless South displayed sound business judgment and made his contract of four hearts.

Even back-seat passengers feel a brand-new comfort, free of jerk and jar and the harshness of direct gear drive.

So you end the day finding you've come farther—and feel fresher. Far from being just "another transmission," you find that Dynaflo is a whole new way of driving—a delightful way much too good to miss.

But—go see for yourself! That Buick dealer is ready to demonstrate—ready to make prompt delivery—ready to take your order this very day.

Willis Play Nears Final Draft for Broadway Opening

GEORGE WILLIS

Woodstock, July 21—A three-act play now in the process of completion by George Willis, local author, in collaboration with Broadway actor, Michael Kane, has a good possibility of having its premiere performance on Broadway this fall. The play is an adaptation of Willis' novel, "Little Boy Blues," published in 1947 by the Dutton Publishing Company. The Theatre Guild has evinced considerable interest in the play, according to the author, and are awaiting its final draft.

Since his graduation from the Des Moines, Ia., High School in 1934, Willis has written millions of words. To date, two novels, "Tangleweed" and "Wild Fawn," and numerous short stories have been published. In addition to the play, he is also working on another novel, "A Certain Pleasure," which is expected to be published this fall by the Dodd Mead Company.

Before selling his first story, "Not Time but Rhythm" which was published in 1939 by the American Mercury, Willis said he had received 43 rejections on the story, two of which had come from the American Mercury. How to account for it? "Well," said the author who has a good sense of humor, "all I can say is that the editor probably hadn't had his Wheaties for breakfast."

A typewriter given to him at the age of 12, by his father really started him on his career. As soon as he learned to use the machine, he began writing on the average of 3,000 words daily. He did not begin with complete stories he stated but rather openings and closings. His serious writing did not begin until 1934 and though for five years thereafter, he received no encouragement, he kept on steadily until the exciting day in his life brought a check for his first book.

At that time "I was slinging hash in a Des Moines restaurant and suddenly I found myself autographing books in between serving orders. The author's ability to discipline himself and keep his mind on his goal was shown by the fact that while working at various types of jobs to make a living, part of every 24 hours was set aside for writing.

His first three novels are a trilogy of three musicians. The knowledge for the background of those novels was gained from first hand experience as a drummer with hands playing in night clubs. He spoke of "the rhythm of the prose" and exemplified this by "when I write about a drummer I write the prose so that it beats like a drum."

At an early age, Willis said he got the idea that reading and writing were the only means of communication. "There were always many books in my life and this coupled with the fact that my father's business necessitated our moving about a good deal, had a broadening influence."

Why does a native and resident of Des Moines, Iowa, suddenly decide Woodstock is the only place to live? To quote the author, "Woodstock is known all over the world and while I know no one here, my wife and I decided in 1945 that it was the place we wanted to live. It is the only place I know where you can be absolutely independent. In Des Moines there is no such thing as independent thinking." The Willises reside in the Maverick.

Although he could give no explanation for it, Willis said his books were most popular in Boston, California and Milwaukee.

Fiene Sees Little Reward for Pupils in Sculptor Work

Woodstock, July 21—Outside the studio of the prominent, local sculptor, Paul Fiene, are to be found huge blocks of marble and granite, here and there about the grounds. At the studio entrance, your reporter paused and gazed appreciatively upon the several impressive works of sculpture placed upon their respective pedestals.

Sculptor at Work

tals in a most unpretentious manner.

The sculptor was at work on a torso four and a half feet high, which he was carving out of white marble. In the background were some of the hundreds of chisels, files, and other tools used by the artist in his creative work. The figures and other pieces to be seen represented something in 6,000 hours of work during the past two years. To have any true realization of how arduous it is, one must see the sculptor at work.

A sculptor's reward? Like any true artist, his greatest recompense comes from the joy of creating. His financial return is generally speaking, meager. Being aware of this situation and the fact that Fiene is for the third successive year the sculpture instructor at the Art Students League, he was asked what if any advice he imparted to his young students. "My advice to young students is not to become a sculptor, it does not pay."

Fiene works with granite from Maine and Vermont, red granite from Missouri as well as a buff colored granite containing black spots which comes from Scotland; also Italian and American marble. The marble from Tennessee he claimed to be superior to the Italian marble. "As a young man I worked with wood, I don't like it, because it splinters and furthermore, it does not give me what I want. He does not use a model in his work, because, he said, "you don't get the spirit of the stone. To carve direct, without any model or drawings, which is the way I work, a sculptor must know what he wants to do. This requires a mature attitude."

As to the different types of sculpture, Fiene said, "there is a great deal of difference in sculptors; there are the artists who do creative work and the monument men who might be described as commercial sculptors."

And what will be done with this interesting work? "Well," stated the sculptor, "when artists are creating, they are not considering what is to be done with their work. Any work of significance will find a place. That is why we have museums."

However, it was obvious that this artist believed sincerely that home owners should include a fine painting or piece of sculpture in the plans for their home. "Everything you buy wears out but a picture and a good piece of sculpture will live forever. Every living thing should contain sculpture and painting." On this score he mentioned that the average person considered $500 for a painting or piece of sculpture something only the wealthy might contemplate. "This is all wrong. The interest and enjoyment that comes from a good piece of art lasts during your entire lifetime, and can be passed on to others who will find the same enjoyment."

As an example to prove his theory, he pointed to a Chinese horse made in the 11th century and which had been in a tomb for 800 years. "That piece of sculpture was done 10,000 miles from here and yet there it stands on my fireplace and gives me and all who see it, great pleasure."

In 1920, Paul and his brother, Ernest, noted American painter, came to Woodstock and built their own studios. In this project, they were assisted by the prominent painter, Henry Mattson. "In those days, we built our own homes. We couldn't afford contractors," said Paul. Three years later, he married artist, Rosella Hartman, twice winner of Guggenheim awards and other prizes in recognition for her exceptional work.

Born in Elberfeld, Germany, he studied at Beaux Arts, New York, where he received the first prize in life class. He has exhibited at the Whitney Studio Club, International Sculpture show, Pennsylvania Museum, University of Nebraska, Artists for Victory exhibition, Metropolitan, World's Fair 1939, and elsewhere.

His commissions include Post Office, New York city; reliefs in lobby; and various private portraits.

He is represented in the collections of Dr. George Stoddard, Thomas Benton, Edward Powis Jones, Weyhe Gallery, Leon Barzin, Dr. Martin Vorhaus, Stanley Kinley, Albany Art Institute of History and Art, Whitney Museum, and many others. In 1944, he was appointed on the art advisory committee to the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York; and worked as assistant to Gaston Lachaise. Of this latter association Fiene said "I learned more about the know how of stone from Lachaise than from anyone else. He was such a magnificent craftsman, one of the best men with tools, I have ever seen."

He has given lectures in Grant Wood's class of painting in Iowa City and at Bard College sculpture classes.

Fiene's friends are trying to prevail upon him to exhibit his work this year, but he will not commit himself on this question.

'Heiress' Is Next Playhouse Vehicle

Woodstock, July 22—"The Heiress," by Ruth and Augustus Goetz, based on the novel, "Washington Square" by Henry James, will be presented at the Woodstock Playhouse, Tuesday evening, July 26 and continue through Sunday, July 31.

Michael Linenthal, managing director of the Playhouse who has had many years of experience as an actor and will be remembered for his performances in the leading role in "Topaz," as well as character roles in "Twentieth Century," "The Jailer's Wench," and "Watch Out For Moonlight," will play the dramatic role of the father in "The Heiress," while Jane-Lloyd Jones, who plays the role of Sabina in "The Skin of Our Teeth" and appeared in all previous productions this summer, will enact the part of the daughter.

Velma Royton, well known leading lady, who appeared in "The Heiress" in New York, will direct the play and also will be seen in the part which she played on Broadway, that of the aunt of the young heiress, Randolph Echols will be seen as the fortune hunter. George Corrin will design the beautiful and atmospheric setting of the Victorian drawing-room in the Washington Square house.

Village Notes

Woodstock, July 22—Mr. and Mrs. Roger Britt, member musicians, Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, returned to their Manhattan home this week after a two weeks trip to Aspen, Colo., where they attended the Goethe Bicentennial and played five concerts with the symphony orchestra. They were very enthusiastic about the bi-centennial which was described as being most inspiring. The long list of prominent speakers included Albert Schweitzer, African Thornton Wilder, and representatives from Israel, Netherlands, Italy and other European countries.

Captain Kees Van der Loo arrived from Washington Monday of this week for a short vacation.

Mrs. Gordon Knight, Nyack-on-Hudson, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Franchot Paige, Bearsville, for a few days visit on Saturday.

Mrs. Carl Eric Lindin entertained at dinner and the Playhouse, Sunday evening, in honor of Miss Van Mason who was celebrating her birthday. Guests included Miss Wilma Hervey, Mr. and Mrs. William Pachner, and Gregg Lindin. Allen Updegraff has returned from France where he has been for the past year while writing his latest book. He has been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Watrous.

Edward Millman, local artist, is substituting at the Art Students League, as instructor during Fletcher Martin's leave of absence. Mr. Millman returned to his home a few days ago from the west where he was working on a commission for the Abbott Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Ronder have purchased the Cornelius V. V. Sewell property on the Byrdcliffe road and will occupy it as of August 1.

Mrs. Margaret Carlson returned Thursday from a week's vacation in Martha's Vineyard.

Many residents were without lights and telephone service following the heavy storm Wednesday evening when lightning was said to have struck in several places.

Miss Virginia Farmer, violinist, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Britt.

A harp and piano recital was given Tuesday afternoon by Mildred Dilling and Clara Chichester at the former's home. About 50 guests attended.

Mrs. Margaret Kenyon has received word that her daughter, Mrs. Eno Compton with son Eno, Jr. will leave California July 29, for a month's visit here. They are expected to arrive August 1.

A trail ride to the Overlook House was taken last Sunday by 13 members and guests of the Woodstock Riding Club. When the riders reached Overlook, a heavy shower prevented their going on and they took shelter until the storm passed. A rattlesnake reported to be two feet long and bearing 10 rattlers invaded the picnic grounds of the riders and was promptly killed by Malcolm Carravoght of Lake Hill. Others on the ride were Virgil Van Wageningen, Louise Van Wageningen, Paul and Preston Ferlman, Erihan Van de Bogart, Fred and Billy Reynolds, Alexander and Richard Klementis, David Levy, Alfred Osterlander and Aaron Van de Bogart, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Lewis held a reception Thursday evening at their home in honor of Miss Eliana Semmler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Semmler, Zena. Miss Semmler is a graduate of the Northfield School for Girls and will enter Swarthmore College in the fall. The guests included the Misses Anne Middleton, Ann Graesser, Phyllis Hoffman, Cynthia and Jane Neher, Linda Lilly and Audrey Webster; also Corny Sewell, Jr., Emmett Edwards, Jr., Lindley Hoffman, Pete Wolfe, Harry Berkowitz, Andrew and Barry Neher.

Mrs. Sidney Tobias has returned to her home where she is convalescing following a recent operation in a New York hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Turnbull, Zena, have as their guests Mrs. Turnbull's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keefe.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Semmler have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Geissalbe of Florida.

The meeting of the Woodstock Historical Society scheduled for Thursday has been postponed until early August.

Mrs. Reginald Wilson and daughter, Polly, 2, celebrated their joint birthdays Tuesday with a party at the Wilson home. Present were Mr. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Mecklen, and Sally and Pixie Mecklen.

Preliminary Plans Are Discussed for Public Swim Pool

Woodstock, July 22—Now that a water supply system is about to be installed in the town, several persons are seriously considering the advantages of building a public swimming pool which it is understood would be located within the water district.

We learn that the pool proposed would cost about $25,000 to build and would be of a size approximately 50x125 feet with a wading pool for youngsters. Sam Schwartz, owner of the Town House, expressed himself to your reporter as being very favorable to the idea and believes the project could be carried out through the issuance of bonds to business persons who might be expected to get behind the idea.

In stressing the need for such a project, Schwartz stated that the summer visitors "objected strenuously to the lack of swimming facilities in the community."

UNION CENTER

Colonials Drop Two to Bristol; Sell 'Red' Graham to Bridgeport

Laviano Says Financial Crisis Forced Sale of Ace Lefthander

Jones Dairy Blanks Chez Emile, 3 to 0

You might say the badly harrassed Kingston Colonials dropped a tripleheader last night. Two ball games to the Bristol Owls but of greater significance was the sale of star southpaw, Hamilton "Red" Graham, to the Bridgeport Bees for an undisclosed sum of cash.

Graham's sale to the Bees was a straight cash transaction but it is understood that Bridgeport will furnish a third sacker for the Colonials in the next few days.

The Owls trounced the Colonials 6 to 0 behind Reuben Gomez's one-hit pitching in the opener last night and then nailed Francisco Sostre, and Ray Riescher for a 10-3 decision in the nightcap.

Al Thomaier's single with one out in the seventh robbed Gomez of a no-hitter in the abbreviated opener. It was a sharp hit to left field.

No Choice—Laviano

Club president Tod Laviano made the flat-footed statement that Graham was sold because the Colonials are in a bad way financially and the entire amount of the sale would be applied immediately to back salaries for the players.

"I simply had no choice in the matter," Laviano said. "I needed money badly for back salaries and to keep the ball club going. Money that was expected from other sources has not materialized. Nobody appreciates any more than I do the popularity of Graham among the Kingston fans, but it was a case of either selling Graham for some ready cash or losing the ball club."

Bees Anxious

Bridgeport has been angling for Graham's services for some time, having offered cash and player deals. The sorely-thatched southpaw has been particularly effective against the Bees and shut them out twice in succession.

Graham has a 4 and 6 record but his performances in the past few weeks have been among the best in the league.

Bill McKever, the St. Lawrence University alumnus, was charged with the loss in the opener. His chief tormentor was the Puerto Rican flash, Carlos Bernier, who had "3 for 3" including a triple, a run batted in and three stolen bases.

Paul Wargo, a 1948 star with the championship Port Chester nine, returned from the Florida-International League to haunt the Colonials in the nightcap.

Wargo, who pitched nine effective innings, struck out eight men, allowed a double and homer to drive in four runs and scored twice. An unconfirmed report says that he also assisted in carrying the bats.

Sostre Routed Entrusted with a starting role for the first time in months, Francisco Sostre was a colossal flop. The Owls climbed over him for four runs in the second and then chased him out of the box during a five-run spurge in the sixth.

Kingston separated Wargo from a couple of markers in the sixth when Johnny Elenchin and Jim Gordon delivered key singles. Elenchin scored a good night with three singles in four trips. A third time in the ninth was the result of Ed McNamara's single, an infield out and Jose Abreu's safety.

Sostre was batted with none out in the sixth. He had issued two walks and struck for five hits before Big Ray Riescher put out the fire. The big blowers were Kelly's triple and doubles by Bernier and Wargo.

Home for Week-End

The road trip concludes in Stamford tonight against the red hot, league leading Pioneers with the Colonials due to start Frank Demery.

The week-end series at municipal stadium features the Bridgeport Bees in a single game Saturday and twilight doubleheader Sunday. Graham will probably start against the old teammates in one of the games.

Aussies and Canadians Split in Davis Cup Play

Montreal, July 22 (AP)—Although held even in the first two singles matches, Australia's Davis Cup tennis team remained an odds-on favorite over Canada going into today's doubles clash of their American zone semi-finals competition.

The down-under duo of Frank Sedgman and John Bromwich face Canada's Brendan Macken and Walter Stohiberg in what could prove the vital contest of the series.

Macken and Sedgman were yesterday's winners, the former upsetting Billy Sidwell, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3 in bases, while Sedgman evened it up by defeating Henri Rochon, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2. Brendan gave Canada its first match triumph over the Aussies. In their four previous cup meetings Australia won each time by 5-0.

Colonial Roundup

(By The Associated Press)

For the second night in a row good batting offset poor fielding as the Stamford Pioneers, needing a win to retain first place in the Colonial Baseball League, whipped the Bridgeport Bees 12 to 5 at Stamford last night.

Stamford's 12 hits, including the second home run in as many nights by New York Yankee rookie Pete Gentile, offset five Stamford errors. Big Ed Hrabosak's pitch-throwing was a potent factor, too. He fanned 11 of the Bees.

Connecticut's two other league members made hay at the expense of their New York state rivals with double victories. Bristol pushed Kingston deeper into the cellar by winning 6 to 0 and 10 to 3, while Waterbury scored 3 to 2 and 11 to 0 triumphs over Poughkeepsie.

Ruben Gomez who pitched the seven innings opener for Bristol was within two outs of a no-hitter when third sacker Al Thomaier reached him for a clean single, Kingston last night.

Ernie Sawyer and Ben Wysocki each pitched a six-inning for Waterbury against the Poughkeepsie Chiefs.

Williams Kayoes Bolanos in Fourth

Los Angeles, July 22 (AP)—The championship dream of Mexico's Enrique Bolanos lay in shambles today, broken to bits by the devastating fists of Deadpan Ike Williams, lightweight champion of the world.

Bolanos went down and out before a furious fusillade of punches in the fourth round of their scheduled 15 round clash last night at Wrigley Field. Some 18,999 spectators paid $108,274 to see the ritual, a charity promotion. Williams weighed 135 pounds and Bolanos 133.

It was Enrique's third crack at the Trenton, N. J., Negro and his third defeat at the hands of the 25-year-old champion. This was not the same Williams who needed 15 rounds to win a split decision over Bolanos in May of last year. Nor was it the Williams who stopped the then green challenger in eight rounds in 1946.

Champion Ike, appearing stronger and faster than in their previous matches, started winging at the opening bell. He had the end in sight at the close of the third canto when Bolanos' left eye was shut tighter than a miser's purse from jolting right smashes. Later, George Parnassus, Bolanos' manager, claimed his boy had been "thumbed" in the eye in the second round. But Referee Jack Dempsey said he didn't see any foul play.

Bolanos persuaded his corner to let him go out for the fourth where he battled on even terms for the first minute. But then the sky fell on him.

Sold to Bridgeport Bees

HAMILTON GRAHAM

Kingston's top pitcher who will be wearing the uniform of the Bridgeport Bees when the Connecticut nine invades municipal stadium for a week-end series against the Colonials. And in all probability will be on the firing line against his old teammates in one of the games. Graham was sold to the Bees yesterday in a straight cash transaction. The amount involved was not disclosed. (Freeman Photo)

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

(By The Associated Press)

By JACK HAND
Eiv Palica is hailed as "the new Casey" in Brooklyn today the hard-pressed Dodgers where open a vital four-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Day after day Palica is waved from the bullpen to save the skin of a regular Brooklyn starter just like Hugh Casey used to do. Erv worked in seven of the last 11 Dodger games, winning four and losing one.

Ironically he capped his seventh victory of the season yesterday because Casey, the old Brooklyn fireman, now with Pittsburgh failed to stop a Dodger upswing. Luis Olmo who may be the pivot of the returning Mexican jumpers, nicked Casey for a game-winning "pinch" single that supplied Brooklyn's 7-5 edge over the Pirates.

Lead By 2-6 Games
The Dodgers really needed that win over the Pirates because the Cardinal victory over Boston already was posted on the scoreboard in right center field. Now with a 2 1/2 game lead, they can't lose first place unless they blow the whole series.

Harry Brecheen lifted the Cards over Boston, 3-1 with a five-hitter while the Birds handed Johnny Antonelli, the Braves $70,000 bonus dandy, his fifth loss. Antonelli has been beaten by the Cards four times in his brief career.

Bobby Thomson led the New York Giants to their fourth straight win, three in a row over Cincinnati with a pair of homers and a double. The Score from Staten Island drove in six runs off Herm Wehmeier, Ed Ewart and Ewell Blackwell in the Giants' 9-5 triumph.

Walker Cooper, making his first appearance in the Polo Grounds since he was sold to Cincinnati, homered with the bases loaded as the Reds routed Clint Hartung in a five-run third inning. Kirby Higbe who pitched the rest of the game was credited with his first victory since coming to New York from Pittsburgh June 6.

Yankees Stop Tribe
Hank Borowy, apparently making a career of beating Chicago since the Cubs traded him to the Phils, turned back his old mates for the fifth time, 6-4. Borowy was hit hard but weathered the storm for his ninth victory.

The New York Yankees took the rubber game of the Cleveland series, 5-3, stretching their American League lead to 5 1/2 games on Vic Raschi's 15th victory.

Raschi, who has lost only three, scattered eight hits. It was the fourth straight time he had tamed the Tribe who have yet to beat him. Once again Joe DiMaggio was the big man, driving in two runs with a single that sparked a three-run rally against loser Early Wynn in the third.

The revived St. Louis Browns finally came to the end of their six-game winning streak in the second game of a two-night doubleheader with Philadelphia, but not until they had broken loose with an 11-run inning.

With Roy Sievers hitting a grand slam homer, the Browns scored 11 runs in the sixth inning of their 15-2 twilight decision over Dick Fowler. They were nipped out in the second game, 3-2, on Hank Majeski's game-winning triple in the eighth inning as Alex Kellner registered win No. 13.

Fourteen men went to bat in the big inning, a new high scoring total for the season in an American League inning. Seven hits and five walks did the damage.

Detroit slammed out 14 hits, including homers by Pat Mullin, Dick Wakefield and George Vico, to whip Washington, 6-3. Freddie Hutchinson, relieving Ted Gray in the fourth, worked 5 1/3 scoreless innings for his sixth victory.

Race Scurron was the loser. The Boston-Chicago game was rained out in the American League.

Heat on Gonzales To Make Cup Squad
Haverford, Pa., July 22 (AP)—National tennis champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales has his job cut out for him if he expects to land a berth on the defending Davis Cup team.

Aldrick H. Man, non-playing captain of the defending U. S. Davis Cup team, was the author of the statement yesterday as he watched Gonzales gain the semi-final round of the Pennsylvania State Tournament at the Merion Cricket Club.

Dick definitely will have to prove himself," said Man. "As things now stand, Ted Schroeder, Wimbledon champion definitely will play in the singles.

"Gonzales will have to fight for a berth against Frankie Parker, Bill Talbert and Gardner Mulloy."

Man said Pancho's victory in the National Clay Courts Championship last week was to his credit but he has still got to show he can win on grass.

Schroeder, Parker, Talbert and Mulloy are wide in the ways of Davis Cup competition. Schroeder and Parker won both of their singles matches from the Australians last year. Mulloy and Talbert teamed for the doubles triumph.

Will Dedicate Memorial Exhibit Monday Afternoon

The VanRensselaer Memorial exhibit in the city hall rotunda will be dedicated officially to public inspection Monday at 2 p. m. Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and City Historian William C. DeWitt announced today.

The memorial battle flag and other mementos presented to the city by heirs of Col. Walter A. VanRensselaer, are displayed in a case built by workmen of the local public works department.

Col. VanRensselaer captured the Confederate battle flag at the battle of Gettysburg on July 2, 1863, and the heirs recently recalled that he had instructed them to present to this city at an appropriate time the flag, honor roll and diary.

The colonial had enlisted first in the 20th Regiment, Old Water Guard, and later re-enlisted until the end of hostilities, also from here, in the 120th Regiment. The heirs, two sons and a daughter, notified Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of the offer in June, of this year, and the mayor and historian DeWitt worked out a plan to display the historic exhibit here.

The date was set through agreement of the heirs, Walter A. VanRensselaer, Jr., Salt Point, Dutchess county, Nicholas B. VanRensselaer, New Paltz, and Mrs. Crowell, Pittsfield, Mass.

The public, and members of the Common Council, which approved the acceptance, are invited to attend.

Dockers Vote ...

their stoppage was reached after consultation with an official of the CSU, which a walkout committee member said had agreed to clear the two Canadian ships listed as "black."

At one point the strikers insisted they were victims of a lockout by the Labor Government because of the government's insistence that they work the two blacklisted ships. The government denied it was a lockout.

There had been signs earlier that the strike—denounced by the Labor Government as Communist-inspired—was breaking up.

One group of workers had voted to remove a cargo of wheat from one of the Canadian ships. Another group of 1,000 strikers yesterday adopted a resolution expressing willingness to return to work if the main body of strikers voted to do so.

The government meanwhile sent an additional 600 troops to handle cargoes today. That raised the total to 11,397 servicemen at work.

Home Secretary James Chuter Ede announced in Commons this morning that two Americans and a Dutchman who arrived in London by plane last night in connection with the strike would be deported for the "public good."

He identified the Americans as Louis Goldblatt and John Maletta. He added that after satisfying himself that their visit here was connected with the dispute at the London docks, he decided it was conducive to the public good they should be deported.

Ede said the men, who came here from France, had been picked up by police shortly after midnight.

The Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions recently held a dockers and seamen's conference at Marseilles.

Dewey Committee

Placement and Unemployment Insurance, John E. Burton, state budget director, and Robert T. Lansdale, state social welfare commissioner.

The committee's job, Dewey said, will be to "make certain that all agencies of the state government effectively coordinate their services in meeting further declines in business conditions or employment that might occur."

Kirkwood Judged Father of Twins

Worcester, Mass., July 22 (AP)—Big Joe Kirkwood, Jr., the punching Joe Palooka movie hero today was judged the father of illegitimate twin sons born six years ago to a pretty movie cashier.

District Judge Walter D. Allen made the ruling against the 28-year-old film player on a charge brought by Miss Florence G. Heppenstall, 26, of Worcester.

The finding came after lobby conferences had delayed the start of the hearing.

The film player and the cashier faced each other as they heard the verdict. Both appeared calm.

Kirkwood's counsel, Atty. Nathan Fink, said he planned an appeal.

There was no immediate comment from either Kirkwood or Miss Heppenstall.

As the lobby conferences went on, Kirkwood, tanned and husky, talked with newsmen in the courthouse corridor.

The Hollywood player told newsmen some papers had misquoted him when they said he would "take care" of the boy twins even if he was declared innocent of the charge.

Kirkwood said today "I have never seen the kids and have no desire to see them. I have no interest in her either."

"I would like to help the kids except for the fact it would read too much like an admission of guilt."

About 100 spectators waited at the courthouse when the movie slugger arrived wearing a gray suit, his shirt collar open.

Kirkwood, who is also a professional golfer, appeared more eager to talk about a golf date in Pittsfield Sunday and the Western Open at St. Louis later on.

Before today's hearing Kirkwood flatly denied being the father of the twins.

Miss Heppenstall swore out the complaint against Kirkwood when she learned he was scheduled to play in a benefit softball game between film players at Braves Field Monday night.

Kirkwood was arrested shortly before the start of the game and has been free in $1,000 bail.

Kirkwood said in an interview Miss Heppenstall was a "slight acquaintance" and one of many waitresses he met at a New Hamphshire club where he worked in 1942.

The twins were born in April, 1942.

The film puncher said "I regret the publicity in this case. Personally, it hurts me, but that is not my main concern."

"My chief worry is that it will hurt the role I play in the movies—that of Joe Palooka, the ideal American boy. That means a lot to youngsters all over the country."

Opium Is Seized
Phoenix, Ariz., July 22 (AP)—U. S. Treasury Department agents seized $25,000 in opium and gambling equipment in twin raids on two Phoenix establishments last night.

Earl Smith of the department's narcotic division said one of the two dens is considered among the largest smoking and gambling places in the United States. At the first place four pistols and smoking equipment were found.

um pipes in a network of basement rooms. At the second, a Chinese were found smoking opium.
